

perts in extreme applications.

From high temperatures, contamination, water or even chemical assaults, your lubricated machine parts can take a beating day in and day out. When conditions are extreme, JAX expertise is the right tool for the job. With forward thinking, in-house solutions and constantly evolving R&D, we can help maintain and protect your valuable investments — no matter what industry you serve.

800.782.8850
www.jax.com